Cottrelle Sounding Warning Only In Statement Regarding Raising Of Gasoline Price

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—(CP)—Comment by G. R. Cottrelle, federal oil controller, on possible action against service stations which raise the price of gasoline beyond the one-cent increase authorized Oct. 1, did not mean that summary action would be taken to close the stations, he said in a statement today.

Rigors of Winter Hold No Terror For Russian Troops

Resistance Of Several Crack German Units Is Broken In Night Battle

By A. T. STEELE

WITH THE RED ARMY ON THE CENTRAL FRONT, Oct. 3.—(CND)—The winter breaks early in Russia and signs of its approach are all about. Biting winds, daily gusts of rain and hail, and the occasional frost-tinted maples in the evergreen forests remind us that it won't be long.

Iran May Oust Two Legations: Japan, France

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 3.—(AP)—

The Japanese and Vichy French legations soon may be compelled to leave Tehran because of British-Russian displeasure over their activities, it was reported Thursday in diplomatic circles.

The Iran government has suspended the Japanese legation's diplomatic code privileges and the immunity of its mail and diplomatic pouches.

The Japanese legation—in a position similar to that of the legation in Cairo, where British and Egyptian authorities have imposed restrictions—now must send its messages in clear language through Russian censorship.

ISSUE WITH FRANCE

The big issue with the Japanese legation was over the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, anti-British refugee from the Holy Land.

The British authorities now admit they are uncertain about his whereabouts, but the British legation charges that Japanese legation here gave him at least temporary asylum. It has demanded through the Iran foreign office that he be deported.

British sources have indicated they hope that a British-Russian treaty of alliance with Iran will be accepted upon by Moscow. Iran's acceptance is regarded as certain.

The treaty was understood to stipulate that the Allied troops and this country to defend it. The official reports say the Iran army would be bound by the agreement to fight side by side with the British and Russian forces.

London Broadcast Disturbs Goebbels

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(CND)—Propaganda Minister Goebbels described Thursday by the British Broadcasting Corporation as "the most imaginative writer in the world" registered another plea Thursday against listening to B.B.C. news broadcasts.

"What is the B.B.C. news worth?" the German minister asked. "Lies are only making for worry and sleepless nights."

The B.B.C. quoted Goebbels as saying that "even in Germany" there were people who could not be taught. They would not refrain from listening to London broadcasts "despite sentences of death and penal servitude."

"It is unfair to listen to London broadcasts," he said. "The propaganda of the B.B.C. is doing the best for the German nation," Goebbels said.

Remember the devastating effects of British propaganda in the last war. We know that this war is our last and greatest chance."

Willkie Charges Politics Halting Defence Program

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie Thursday charged the administration with neglecting preparation in the time of emergency and faltering handling of the defence program.

Writing in the current American Magazine, Willkie said he was "astounded by the amount of sheer political floundering going on when the very life of our country is at stake."

At the same time, he commented, "we may find fault with Mr. Roosevelt or disagree with Mr. Churchill, but I must say that no real American can take issue with what they are presently fighting for—the preservation of democracy."

Spitsbergen Raid Gave Canucks Job

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(CND)—

Maj. Gen. R. J. Collins, British military attaché, expressed the opinion that the chief value of the recent Spitsbergen raid was that it gave "some at least of the long-suffering Canadian troops a real, though brief job of work" and that "for once some of them were left off the string."

The chief complaint of Canadian forces stationed in Britain is that they have seen no real action. Those who went to Spitsbergen expressed genuine pleasure over the expedition, even though it involved no fighting.

Speaking on the B.B.C. war commentary, the General said he thought "when you look at the incident which was only a tip-and-run affair, though on a rather large scale."

Without elaborating on the point, he asserted his belief that the raid was a "real" job of work, as they were in fact and that when the Allies occupied those two countries.

"... handy to have when we want to retire ..."

Mrs. Younger: "We're really asked to do very little when we're asked to lend our money, don't you think?"

Mrs. Elder: "It is little . . . especially when we consider how others are suffering."

Mrs. Younger: "And we are able to lend in such small sums when we buy War Savings Certificates . . . everybody can do it . . . but do you think such small savings are worth anything?"

Mrs. Elder: "Indeed they are, when we are all in it. I'm not good at arithmetic, but I realize that the individual effort of small investors, added together, can provide hundreds of millions of dollars for war needs. That's a lot of money."

Mrs. Younger: "It's worth while, when you figure it up like that, isn't it?"

Mrs. Elder: "Yes, it is, and at the end of seven and a half years we get $5.00 back for each $4.00 we invest . . . money that will be handy to have when we want to retire."

The help of every Canadian is needed for Victory. In these days of war the thoughtless, selfish spender is a traitor to our war effort. A reduction in personal spending is now a vital necessity to relieve the pressure for goods, to enable more and more labour and materials to be directed to winning the war. The all-out effort, which Canada must make, demands this self-denial of each of us.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ASSERTS:

Neutrality Act Revision May Be Started Next Week

Bipartisan Conference Of Senate Leaders May Decide Course Of American Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said again today that undoubtedly there would be some effort made to revise the neutrality act.

A final decision on the matter, he told his press conference, would be reached only after a bipartisan conference next Tuesday with Senate leaders.

On the issue of arming American merchant vessels, now forbidden by the law, the President said in response to a question that he considered the statute so definite on this point that it would not be right for him to try to wiggle out from the definite policy of Congress.

He said, too, that he had given no thought to revising present declarations of combat since by presidential order.

He indicated he believed the whole neutrality law problem could be threshed out at Tuesday's conference.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders will be asked to the White House for a conference with President Roosevelt.

Manuel S. Elmer (Dem.-New York) of the House foreign affairs committee will be asked to sit in as an observer.

Reporters reminded the President that Senator Claude Pepper (Dem.-Florida) had proposed that the President, by executive order, take his action setting up combat zones. When asked whether Pepper's statement was made with any sequence, Mr. Roosevelt said he never had heard of it.

The neutrality law now forbids American ships to enter zones prescribed by the President.

Government Of Australia Is Beaten On Vote

administration budget by the nominal sum of one pound sterling.

Fadden previously had announced he would regard passage of the motion as a vote of censure.

The Labor victory was insured when A. W. Cole, an Independent, withdrew his support from the government, thus depriving it of the one-vote majority it has held in the house through a combination of the United Australia and Country Parties.

The other lone Independent, William Wilson, also voted with Labor.

Cole saved the government from a vote of censure only last week when he supported it on a motion relating to a secret fund created to combat subversive activities in Australia.

A former Lord Mayor of Melbourne, Cole quit the United Australia Party after the controversy which resulted in Robert G. Menzies' resignation as Prime Minister Aug. 28.

Coalition party opposition to the proposal that Menzies go to London to be available for consultation with the British war cabinet.

The Labor party earlier had rejected an offer from Menzies for a National Government giving it equal representation in the cabinet.

Today's motion was put after the Labor party had demanded rescinding of the budget to "insure a more equitable distribution of the national income."

Curtin, speaking yesterday in the house, attacked proposed taxes against small incomes and the proposal to defer until after the war payment of a shilling-a-day increase in the pay of Australian soldiers.

A lengthy debate preceded the vote today, during which Fadden and Cole attacked at each other's throats.

Cole declared the government was unable to command a majority in the house and that was in an unfavorable position, while Fadden retorted that Cole was motivated by a desire to get into the cabinet.

COINTEGRATED DRIVE

SUPPLY BIG FACTOR

Assuming that Russia fights all through the winter, it is essential for Hitler to improve his position, these latter weeks. Consolidated there, he could concentrate his main forces on the southern Ukraine and the Crimea, where weather conditions would make for uninterrupted fighting.

Hitler, while he probably has obtained almost nothing of value for himself from the retreating Russians in his advances so far, has deprived the Russians of important resources, including more than one-fourth of the Dnieper industrial zone. Outcrops of Kharkov and the Donets basin would be a further severe loss.

PAIR COMMITTED

Aftermath of an alleged attack on a country truck at 97 street and 100 avenue Wednesday night was reviewed in police court Friday morning when J. McMahon and William E. Cowie of this city were committed to stand trial on charges of assault with intent to rob.

The alleged victim, Joseph St. Jean, St. Vincent, told of being set upon by two men, he later identified as the accused as he walked alone past a 97 street cafe. He claimed he was beaten and kicked by the two accused, suffering facial bruises and cuts and some body hurts. He also stated one of the two had pulled some bills of leading from his shirt pocket in what the victim believed was a robbery attempt.

A man passing by told of seeing the two accused striking St. Jean. Both Cowie and McMahon admitted there had been a fight but said it started when St. Jean bumped them on the sidewalk.

The accused pair were arrested a short distance from the scene of the fight by Constables J. Black and J. B. Aral.

The action arises out of an accident at the C.P.R. depot on July 1 last when Mr. Diamond was injured as he left the Chinook train. He suffered injuries which necessitated the amputation of his right leg. It is alleged the accident was caused by carelessness of company servants.

nor state department confirmation of the foregoing. There was, however, concrete evidence seeming to support rather than to challenge that interpretation of the situation.

It came in a White House statement that it is hoped that in the light of the report of the Polish ambassador an entering wedge for the practice of complete freedom of religion is on the way in the Soviet Union.

The ambassador had reported that churches were being provided in the Soviet Union for Polish soldiers.

An associate of the President's who is familiar with the general picture of religious problems in the Soviet Union, and their diplomatic impact throughout the world, meantime, told British United Press that under way was a "thawing" movement to make the Soviet Union a wholly acceptable ally of the United States and of southern Ireland and the South American republics where Catholicism is dominant.

The Rev. Michael J. Brady, executive secretary of the National Catholic Welfare conference, conferred with Mr. Roosevelt for 45 minutes late yesterday.

All these are symptoms of the tremendous interest and political turmoil aroused by this week's casual reference to religious freedom in the Soviet Union.

EFFECT ON ITALY, EIRE

There was much speculation here regarding the effect in Italy of any friendly gesture of the Vatican toward the Soviet Union. That almost wholly Catholic nation might find the use with Germany considerably less binding under such circumstances. Similarly regarded as important here was the possibility that developments at the Vatican might move Catholic Eire from its position of strict neutrality in the present struggle.

CHROME MAIN PRIZE IN TURKEY

Anglo-German Battle For Economic Advantages Now On

British Purchase From Turkey Blockades Reich, Supplies United States

By RICHARD MOWLER

CAIRO, Oct. 3.—(CDN)—The Anglo-German battle for economic advantages in Turkey is due to reach a decision soon with chrome as the main prize, according to information available here. The United States is most interested in this battle, for good reason; Turkish chrome so far acquired by Great Britain by agreement with the Turks has been passed on to the United States for purposes of national defence.

Turkey produces nearly a quarter of the world's chrome output. Next January the agreement whereby Britain gets all Turkish surplus chrome is due to come up for renewal. This agreement was originally an Anglo-French-Turkish arrangement but now that the French are out of the picture the Germans are trying to wedge in in France's place.

Germany has no pressing need for chrome. At present she has stock enough for another year of war, it is estimated. But Germany is interested in the long-term view in its chrome supplies. Furthermore, if the Reich succeeds in persuading the Turks to sell some chrome hereafter Germany will be able to use it for its own economic victory at the expense of Britain from a prestige viewpoint and at the expense of the United States from the viewpoint of American armament.

DUAL PURPOSE
Britain has plenty of chrome and the policy of chrome purchase from Turkey has the dual purpose of blockading the Reich and supplying the United States.

It was reported in Ankara a few days ago that Germany would get 2,500 tons of Turkish chrome and in exchange Germany would build Turkey a gun factory. Whether the report was true or not, the British did not waste any time querying the Turks about it. Nor did the United States embassy in Ankara. To both, the Turks indicated that there was no cause for alarm.

Aside from the angle of obtaining Turkish chrome for war production, the United States is also much interested in what happens to Turkey's chrome because of American commitments to Turkey under the lend-lease policy. Although a non-belligerent, Turkey is included under the lend-lease arrangements and is receiving American war material as well as planes from the British.

Turkey has been critical of the promised American aid to Greece and to Yugoslavia, which did not arrive in time. Under the Lend-Lease act, however, Turkey has recently received 50 aircraft, heavy tanks, with other items on the way. It follows that the United States is anxious to see this potential aid arriving in Turkey "in time." Thanks to the inclusion of non-belligerent Turkey, the lend-lease arrangement is not nullified by the export to Germany of such war material as chrome.

BRITISH IN LEAD
As regards other items figuring in the Anglo-German trade battle, in Turkey, the British are in the Air Chiefs Will Arrive Saturday Inspection Tour

Expected to arrive here by A-1 bomber plane on Saturday, Air Vice-Marshal L. S. Beadler, chief of the air staff, S. L. DeCort, deputy air minister, and their party, will inspect the four air force units located here. No. 10 Elementary Flying Training school, No. 1 Manning depot, and No. 4 Initial Training school, will come under the scrutiny of the air chiefs. The MacKenzie Air Service Aircraft repair unit may also be inspected by the party.

Other members of the party will be Air Vice-Marshal H. Edwards, member of the air council for personnel; Wing Cmdr. T. C. MacFarlane, assistant to the chief of air staff; and Phil L. P. A. Camp, personal assistant to Air Vice-Marshal Edwards.

Former Victim Dies
Mrs. Sylvia May Hillman, 26, of Calgary, formerly of Edmonton, died in Calgary Wednesday. She lived here until a month ago when she moved to the northern city. Funeral services will be held in Edmonton.

Lead Britain has bought more heavily from Turkey since war began and is selling more. In 1938 she imported from Turkey to the amount of only 2,812 tons of Turkish lead. In 1938 imports rose to 6,387, 296 Turkish tons and in nearly 15,000 Turkish tons in 1940-1941.

British exports to Turkey, on the other hand, attained a value for the first eight months of 1941 of 187,240 Turkish lire and included such items as chemical products, dyes, machinery, cotton, copper, sulphates, locomotives and rolling stock—most of which normally figure largely among German exports.

Despite the requirements of the British forces in the Middle East, Britain has made an additional effort to deliver the goods to Turkey via the already overtaxed ports of Egypt and Iraq, not to mention the burdened railroads.

Germany, on the other hand, has had to let the Turks it would have a year and a half for machinery to be delivered to Turkey. Thus the British at present have the edge over Germany in the trade battle of Turkey.

The Germans want from Turkey—besides chrome—wheat, nuts, dried fruits, vegetable oils and tobacco. The British are quick on the draw, however, and on Sept. 10 bought up Turkey's entire rain crop chrome, however, is the battle's big prize and the decision rests with the Turks.

City Business Firms Respond To 'Chest' Fund

Local firms as well as large business places are responding most generously to appeals for putting the Community Chest drive over the top. To ensure successful conclusion of the campaign some firms have already substantially increased their original amounts and others have indicated their intentions of doing so, according to word received from campaign headquarters.

A meeting of the various sections of the industrial-commercial division was held Thursday night and reports from all sections showed the campaign was proceeding "according to schedule" and that in every case the community chest method was meeting with approval.

PRINTERS IN LEAD

The printers' section were in the lead Thursday night in quota securing, with 25.6% of their assigned quota already reported. The professional section is well to the fore also.

The campaign office is flooded daily with telephone calls and letters expressing delight at the response that the citizens of Edmonton are giving the campaign. In many instances these comments come from men who have had consistently short campaigns in other cities. All express confidence that the drive here will succeed as it has in many other cities.

Much gratitude was expressed by the campaign office in which the different committees planned their campaign in order to eliminate duplication, waste and unfair allocation.

On Monday morning about 120 captains will marshal their teams into action over the residential area of the city.

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS
Mrs. Harry Kline and a staff of volunteer workers are busy all this week preparing working kits and pledge cards for this mammoth drive.

Biggest contribution of the day was a $2,000 cheque from the West West Utilities. This matches the amount donated by the Hudson's Bay company earlier in the week. Dower Bros. gave $500. Hales H. Ross, lumberman, also sent a cheque for $500.

Some of the other larger contributions Thursday were: Motor Car Supply, $300; H. M. E. Evans, $150; Sterling Shoes, $100; T. H. Pascoe, $100; Weidner Ltd., $100; and the Edmonton Junk Co., Ltd., $75.

Among the business zone teams that reported Thursday are: W. Baskin's team with $185; Arch Richens, $170; Red Mitchell, $60; Lee Nichols, $50; Henry Roche, $125.

Bismarck Sinking Depicted In Film Shown City Club
A film depicting the battle of the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck was shown to members of the Optimist club at their regular luncheon in the Macdonald Thursday noon.

The film was provided by the university department of extension.

Winifred Hamilton, president of the local branch of the Optimist, was in the chair.

Col. Jamieson's Son Graduates As Army Lieutenant
Former student of Strathcona and Victoria high schools and son of Lt.-Col. H. B. Jamieson, officer commanding the 2nd Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers, and Mrs. Jamieson, Victor Jamieson, 21, has graduated from an officers' training school in England and now holds the rank of lieutenant, according to word received here Thursday.

At the outbreak of war Lt. Jamieson was a sergeant in the Royal Canadian Engineers, N.P.A.M. On December 8, 1939, he went overseas with the 1st Division Intelligence branch, after retraining to the rank of private in order to get into the branch.

After he was transferred to the 2nd Infantry Brigade headquarters, intelligence branch, he soon was promoted to corporal and sergeant. He was then posted to a Canadian active intelligence branch.

Four Sons Enlist
Mrs. D. S. Macdonald, 9815 85 avenue, has given four of her sons to the active services, and a fifth is waiting to be called up. The sons are: Robert, 22, in the R.C.N.V.R.; Lloyd, in the I.A.I. (C.A. Miller with the Canadian army overseas; John with the R.C.A.F.; and Fred who is waiting his call to the air force.

Cedar chests were first made because of the beauty and odor of the wood and later were found immune to moth attack.

'Disturbed' Belt Difficult For Drilling Wells

Difficulties of drilling in the "disturbed" belt along the foothills of Alberta, were outlined by D. P. Goodall, Calgary, and G. Connett, in one of the four reports presented to members of the Canadian Mining Institute, at the Macdonald hotel Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Goodall used maps and charts outlining to the listeners the methods used to overcome difficulties with drilling for gas and oil in each of the three layers-belt in Alberta.

Wells in the plains area were the easiest to produce and the easiest to cope with, he said. He named wells at Medicine Hat, Bow Island and Athabasca as pointers in Alberta's mining industry.

DIFFICULT "FOLD"
Dr. B. R. MacKay, a representative of the Dominion government from the geological survey branch of the department of mines and resources, told the delegates of his findings in connection with an unusual fold in the foothills that has for years puzzled geologists.

This fold is one of only two such that have been found in the world, and presents many difficulties with drilling, due to its unusual "fold," Dr. MacKay stated.

Dr. MacKay spent all summer in the foothills area in study that this fold is a geological phenomenon. Prof. W. G. Worcester of the University of Saskatchewan, and motion films to show the delegates the program that has been made in that province in connection with the processing of fire clays.

W. A. Loring, co-president of the research council of the University of Alberta, used maps, charts and motion slides to show results that the research department has produced after investigating the fuel situation in Alberta.

Nutrition Will Be Studied At Public Meeting

With qualified speakers and a most timely topic, a public meeting on the theme "Nutrition: Our Second Line of Defence" will be held in the McLaughlin church on Wednesday evening of next week, sponsored by the Local Council of Women.

Hon. Dr. W. C. Brown, M.D., minister of health and public welfare of Alberta will be the chairman of the meeting, which will commence at 8:15 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to include a program for study of nutrition in Edmonton, and it is hoped that a large number will attend the meeting to learn the best way to conserve and properly use Canadian foods in Canada, and still guarantee that additional foodstuffs may go to the United Kingdom and Russia for troops and civilians.

Special guests at the public meeting will be His Worship Mayor J. W.

Fry, and Dr. George Hunter, professor of biochemistry, University of Alberta.

Dr. L. B. Peil, lecturer in biochemistry at the University will give an illustrated lecture on "Nutrition: Our Second Line of Defence" J. J. Nickerson, divisional chairman of the study of Nutrition Agencies and Miss Mabel Patrick, director of the school of Household Economics at the University will also speak.

President of the Local Council of Women, which is sponsoring the meeting, is Mrs. D. S. MacKenzie, and Mrs. Byron Morrison is a member of the public health commission.

Income Tax

 THE HEART DOES NOT PURIFY THE BLOOD

In spite of the study of physiology and hygiene in all our schools, many people still believe that the heart has something to do with purifying of the blood. The truth is that the heart is merely a mechanical pump to keep the blood circulation going. It is chiefly in the lungs and kidneys that the blood is purified. The heart simply keeps the blood circulating and the waste products in the blood-stream are removed by the lungs and the kidneys.

Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Amazing bit of information passed along by Bebe Daniels in her recent flying trip from England has been that of slimming. Some of the weight for women who have been considered too fat are losing weight on the way out here and one physician (a prominent Harley Street specialist)

Bebe Daniels calls for a toast to ladies. Here is one of her most recent photographs taken on the last where her latest English picture was made. She used to be one of our favorite slim stars, and her figure is as lovely now as then. She measures 34-24-34—and you can't tell that.

observes that "they are doing just what I have been trying to get them to do for years."
 As it happens, the snack they ate was a heavy afternoon tea. It was mainly for their weight loss. "I had what I call a 'snack' tea," Daniels explained, "because there were always scones, crumpets, bread and butter, rolls and pastries. We were supposed to eat all those things. But you would eat quite a lot."
 Butter and sugar are among the scarier. "We are allowed a very small part of butter and one lump of sugar at a meal in the restaurant and I haven't had cream for so long that although I was looking forward to some, I find it much too rich for me. Milk is still available for the children but we expect that it will soon have to be rationed, too."

By good fortune and the hard work of the "land girl" for whom Mrs. Daniels has unlimited information, there were plenty of green vegetables. "I ate a lot of green vegetables," she said, "and the more I ate, the more I liked them. I found that the diet was improved in some respects.
 One of the less desirable foods, however, is the shortage of meat. Mrs. Daniels is a good practical dietitian when she says that "Economy is working harder than ever before in their lives and they need meat." Although there will be potatoes and such winter greens as broccolis, kale and spinach, the rationing is due to be more stringent. From what I can learn, they will find all the food and can possibly send some of these foods in the men's. In spite of all the hardships, it would seem that the dietary had improved in some respects.

Along with 135 theatrical companies, Bebe Daniels and her husband, Ben Lyons, spent their time entertaining the women in shipyards, munitions plants, plane and tank factories, and all sorts of industries engaged in defense work. As well as the fighting front. As a result of their travels, they have

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
 I look for great developments in tournament bridge during the next year or two. With the joining of the Contract Bridge League and the American Card Authority, it seems to function as it has in the past but now as the Western Division of the Contract Bridge League. Already plans are under way for a large delegation from the Pacific coast to attend the fall season of the national tournament, which will be held at Richmond, Va., the week of Dec. 1.

Tom Stoddard, chairman of the executive committee of the Western Division, tells me that he and his wife, Peggy, are assembling a group, and of course Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Howard, who at present reside in Pasadena, Calif., will be on hand for the tournament.

I am hoping that several of the star players on our coast will be able to make the trip and visit with warm eastern players that the defensive play of this Pacific coast group will really be worth watching. The eastern players are, I think, better bidders. But I will guarantee that if they get into a contract of four spades as the declarer on today's hand, they can expect this kind of defense.

East won the opening lead with the jack of hearts and continued with the queen. South ruffed with the king of trumps, but West did not make a mistake of overruffing. South then led the queen of spades and West took his ace.

A club suit East in to lead at making his contract. If he ruffed low, West would overruff and if

SOLDIER GIFT

Be generous with the boys in camp, by all means, but be practical, too. They have little space to store unnecessary baggage. One that will be useful many times, no doubt, would be an adequate sewing kit. A New York specialty shop has assembled an inexpensive one—containing scissors, needles, safety pins, assorted buttons and spools of thread—in a neat, compact fabric case which closes with a slide fastener.

It is sufficed with an honor. West nine of trumps would be established.

A broken winged wild goose ruffled to health by a Maryland farmer in 1928 was ruled the game.

Soldiers Sent To Basic Unit
For Training

Ninety soldiers left No. 12A District Depot on Friday, for Canmore, where they will report to the Basic Training Centre for the month's preliminary training according to Lt. Col. Allan H. Elliott, officer commanding the depot.

Following the preliminary instruction, they will be posted to different training centres, before being posted to units.

The men are on the active service list and have been enrolled in the 20th quota.

Lt. Col. Elliott declared that while enlistments are slow, they are steady.

TWO SERVICE UNITS

Two active service units are making a special appeal in this way, at present. One is the 6th Canadian Division and the other is No. 17 Cavalry Field Ambulance, also being recruited for the 6th division.

At the same time, general recruiting is under way with all branches of the service requiring men—artillery, engineers, signals, armored units, anti-aircraft and anti-tank, army service, medical and ordnance corps and infantry.

TRAINING PROVIDED

Many splendid opportunities are available to men joining now and opening for skilled tradesmen are given in all branches of service. Technical training will be provided in cases where such is deemed advisable.

Official point out that this is an opportunity to join, at equal opportunities may not be available when recruiting rises to a greater peak.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

THE QUESTION
As an expert on the goods and no-go goods of current history, what do you consider the best "crack" you've heard over the radio?

THE ANSWERS
HERMAN BOXER, clerk I recall, said a remark made on a recent radio program featuring our old friend Charlie McCarthy. I think Town, W. C. Boies who describes Charlie as a "fugitive from a chin-gang."

EILEY PAULSON, manager: I got quite a laugh out of a program I heard some time ago, in which a woman's smile was said to look exactly like the joys of a plump when the lid is lifted off.

LORETTA DOUGLASS, waitress: I got a little collecting area for the books, how about the crack made by a radio comedian who said the only difference between a friend of his and a fool was that the fool had better manners when eating.

GIL STILES, businessman: How long in the reception of shrill sounds, but they also can hear vibrations that do not reach our human ears. There are rapid vibrations there some contradictions, persist in referring to as "supersonic sounds," but the point is that this can hear higher vibration frequencies than human ears have heard to hear.

What did the children hear when the defuncted pipe sought revenge for non-payment of his 1,000 quid's? Children's ears are keener.

Buy Something British Campaign Is Effective
Aid To United Kingdom

When Edmontonians purchase a Made-in-Britain article during the Buy Something British campaign next week they will be taking the easiest and at the same time most effective single step that can be taken to help the gallant British homelander finance their struggle for freedom.

The system of free enterprise under which the peoples of the British Commonwealth of Nations flourish, calls for honest and upright dealing, even in time of war.

Britain must pay for a war of munitions and foodstuffs, purchasing in ever-increasing quantities from the other nations of the world. And this includes her purchases from Canada, which are heavy.

ONLY WAY TO REPAY
By their purchases here next week after Edmontonians will be lining up behind the splendid men behind the guns along the Canadian frontiers of old Britain. Britain now Canada in exchange of $400,000,000 in war purchases already made and the amount will steadily climb in the future. Only by maintaining her exports made in Britain can she pay for her obligations.

Of course, beyond every consideration of a monetary nature, the absolute necessity of winning the war, but the war cannot come by a bankrupt Britain. And that is why the purchases of British-made goods must be kept up to a maximum.

C. P. Martin, who heads the committee from the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, which is in charge of the Buy Something British campaign, states that it is in readiness for the actual opening of the campaign here next Monday.

FAMOUS PRODUCTS
English tows, broadcloth, English goods, woolens, cottons and pipes are just a few of the world-famous products from Britain that will be available in Edmonton in city stores next week. They'll be so prominent that buyers in city stores won't have to look for them. And a shopping habit once acquired is like any other habit. It sticks. A British buyer is pretty certain to remain a British buyer.

Tower Guard On Russ Front . . . Guarding Life-Line To British Shores . . . Mr. England In A Topper

Soviet troops set up a platform in this tree on the Eastern front to be used by scouts of a Red army artillery battalion. Strips of wood are nailed to tree trunk.

A striking photo is the above one, showing the guns of the British destroyer H.M.S. Holderness, on guard over a convoy of British supply ships as they make their way across the sub-infested waters of the Atlantic. These ships with their holds laden with war supplies and food, truly are the lifeline of the British Empire.

Swift, sleek British destroyers, in background, sweep past a British transport in this picture of warships on Atlantic.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill cast aside his famous derby for this occasion as he donned silk topper to visit King Peter of Yugoslavia on latter's birthday in London. Beside him is Russian Ambassador Maisky.

Something New Under The Sun

These planes represent two recent and revolutionary advances in American aviation. Above: the first stainless steel military plane ever built, an Army trainer, soars over Bristol, Pa. Use of stainless steel eliminates riveting, resulting in speedier construction. Below: flying over New York, is a molded plastic plywood plane. Besides being cheap, plywood is stronger proportionately to its weight than aluminum.

Promoted To Air Vice-Marshal

A new portrait of Air Vice-Marshal Robert Leckie, air member of air council for training, who was recently promoted from the rank of air commodore. Air Vice-Marshal Leckie is the immediate chief of the air training plan in Canada.

Plan For Victory Of Canada Arms

Plans to make the Canadian Army "fighting fit and fit to fight" from the day they land overseas were discussed at a recent convention of senior training officers from Command and Military Districts at Ottawa. Attending the conference were, back row, left to right: Lt-Col. J. P. Girvan, D.S.O., M.C., V.D., directorate of military training; Maj. E. H. Amundson, E.D., M.D. 1; Lt-Col. R. Girard, director of military training, M.D. 4; Lt-Col. L. F. Grant, M.D. 3; Lt-Col. H. A. Sparling, directorate of military training; Lt-Col. K. G. McCullagh, Atlantic Command; Lt-Col. A. W. Hunt, M.M., M.D. 10; Major D. G. L. Cunningham, M.C., V.D., M.D. 13; Major E. G. Giles, M.D. 12; Lt-Col. K. S. Kennedy, E.D., M.D. 7. Front row, left to right: Lt-Col. G. E. A. Dupuis, M.C., M.D. 5; Lt-Col. K. M. Holloway, M.D. 2; Brig. G. R. Turner, M.C., D.C.M., assistant quartermaster general, Canadian Corps; Brig. Kenneth Stuart, D.S.O., M.C., vice chief of the general staff; Col. J. K. Lawson, director of military training; Lt-Col. A. H. W. Landon, O.B.E., M.C., Pacific Command; Lt-Col. F. C. Fight Nazi Fire Bombs

Drawn to suggest the demon-threat of the Nazi fire bomb, this poster displayed above by Herbert Morrison, minister of Home Security, proudly announces "Britain Shall Not Burn." It exhorts readers to help the government's recently intensified efforts to keep fire damage at a minimum. Morrison told reporters that new measures have been introduced by the British government whereby the fire services come directly under state control through the new National Fire Service.

Citizens Of Leningrad Dig Tank Traps

Surrounded but still far from being captured, the city of Leningrad has mobilized hundreds of thousands from civilian life, to stand off the Nazi soldiers. Typical of the co-operation given by the civilian brigades is the work of these civilians, pictured in a radiophoto from Moscow. They are working in shifts to build huge tank traps to immobilize Nazi tank attacks on the city.

Handy Bridge

Undisturbed by the old saw, "don't cross a bridge 'til you come to it," this British Tommy brings his bridge with him as he trains in Northern Ireland with Royal Engineers.

Lays Deadly "Eggs"

His thumb tense on the release button, a bombardier of the R.C.A.F. is shown at the bombight in the bottom of a Faircy battle bomber. The job of dropping bombs with deadly accuracy from dizzy heights is a highly specialized one requiring months of training. Today in the Royal Canadian Air Force schools of the British Commonwealth Air Training plan spotted throughout Canada, keen-eyed young men are learning to do this job well.
